DETAILED ACTION

This action is in response to papers filed on November 7, 2001.

Claims 1-12 are pending.

Claims 1-12 are rejected.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

2. Claims 1-4, 6-9 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by US Patent 6,795,856 Bunch; System and Method for Monitoring the Internet Access of a Computer.

3. As to claim 1 Bunch teaches logging an employees internet usage thru a firewall(C. 3 l. 25-28/C. 2 l.14-15)

inputting company and/or organization information and guidelines(C. 9 l. 66-67) using guidelines to create summary reports(C. 10 l. 7-10)

providing reports to supervisors when they log into monitoring system(C. 9 l.24-26)

4. As to claim 2 Bunch teaches displaying the information to the supervisor in a detailed format. All though the reference fails to teach the specific detail of highlighting these differences are only found in the nonfunctional descriptive material and are not functionally involved in the steps recited. The steps would be performed regardless of the colors presented in the report. Thus, this descriptive material will not distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art in terms of patentability, see in re Gulack, 703 F.2d 1381, 1385, 217 USPQ 401, 44(Fed. Cir. 1983); In re Lowry, 32 F.3d 1579, 32 USPQ 2d 1031(Fed. Cir. 1994).

5. As to claims 3, 6-7 Bunch teaches summary reports with the ability to select additional information(C. 9 I. 26-27).

6. As to claim 4 Bunch teaches the reports are provided for predetermined set time frames(C. 7 I. 53-54 and Claim 12).

7. As to claims 8, 9 and 11 Bunch teaches providing reports on a weekly, monthly and/daily basis.(C. 4 I. 37-40; C. 5 I. 5-8).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

10. Claims 5, 10 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US Patent 6,795,856 Bunch; System and Method for Monitoring the Internet Access of a Computer.

11. As to claims 5, 10 and 12 Bunch teaches a system and method for monitoring an employees internet usage, however, Bunch fails to teach an employees email account. It would have been obvious to combine monitoring email accounts with Bunch as many email accounts are access via email as well as it gives the employer access to additional activity about the users activities.
